

Chicago Tribune Magazine

HOME DESIGN

PART 2 • APRIL 7, 1991 • SECTION 19

COUNTRY COMFORTS

Weekend havens that make you feel at home

Clockwise from top:
Wicker, at home both indoors and out, teams with a glass-topped iron table in this gazebo dining room.

A screened-in porch is furnished with a vintage wicker swing, a pair of rockers and a serape on the floor.

A weekend home shows architect Richard Gibbons' fondness for Palladian villas. Latticework, which eventually will be covered with vines, embellishes a deck raised five feet above ground.

A bed of begonias stands out against weathered pine and pavement bricks.

